

INVITATION

Sustainability is standing high on the agenda in most countries. The UN's sustainability goal is the world's joint work plan for eradicating poverty, combating inequality and stopping climate change by 2030. For the goals to be reached, everyone needs to do their part: governments, the private sector, civil society and private people.

In connection with the 4th Eu Fresh info Forum - International Federation for Produce Standards (IFPS) are arranging a Roundtable discussion/update to share knowledge on the development on Sustainability in different countries.

We see in the development of programs for durability a wide range of different directions in different countries where Fresh produce is produced and/or consumed. The same development we saw in the early years of foodsafety-programs started. But in an international industry and supply chain those development have to be connected as soon as possible. In this roundtable we want to start with sharing information between the different countries.
